

Zoning law foe refutes criticism

By HENRY CANTIN

In answer to an article appearing in last week's Romulus Roman, the Citizens Advisory through Chairman Robert Plank, wa quick to point out what it alleges to be deliberate falsehoods by the present council chairman Jimmie Raspberry.

Interviewed this week, Plank said, "Let's examine the council chairman's statements to see what he really is saying.

"The article appearing last week says 'The zoning law and map were accepted by the electorate.' This is not true," Plank says. (Ed. note: that statement was not made by Raspberry but was mistakenly reported by the Roman. Council approved the zoning law, which was not subject to a vote of the people.)

Plank continued, "The Planning Commission and the Advisory Committee had agreed to support the map and law as submitted at the public hearing. However, in a specially called, secret executive session there were changes made which were never agreed upon by the advisory group or the Planning Commission."

In referring to what he called another deliberate falsehood by the council chairman, Plank said, "Mr. Raspberry leads the public to believe that all changes were made in the zoning because of the opinions stated at the public hearing."

The facts are, Plank said, that an individual who presently holds a multi-thousand dollar rubbish contract with the city was granted multiple zoning in an area which will badly depreciate the property in an existing new subdivision.

Raspberry said last week that this specific change was made as a result of a request by the land owner, a request that the council received prior to the public hearing. The case did not arise at the public hearing.

"Although there were many other requests for multiple zonings, and other changes," Plank said, "only a selected few were given changes. We ask why."

Council President Raspberry says they (the council) were following the advice of their counsel in denying the petition of the advisory committee. We ask: does their legal counsel also advise them to hold over two-thirds of their scheduled meetings in secret session as they have done over the past year?"

Further, Plank added, "We ask, if their counsel advised them not to let the people have the right to vote on their laws, as he has done, would it be safe to assume that the council chairman would not be in favor of the people's right to vote in a free society? This may be done in other countries, but in America we still have that right.

"The advisory committee would like to point out," the chairman added, "that while Mr. Raspberry would lead the public to believe that he is an expert on zoning, the truth of the matter is that he never attended even one meeting of the advisory committee, which were all open and advertised to the public."

All of the meetings, Plank stated, had professional people in attendance, such as a representative from the State Tax Commission, attorneys, planners and representatives of the administration of local government.

CERTIFICATES OF APPRECIATION — In recognition and appreciation for the "very commendable and dedicated services," members of the Romulus police force were presented with certificates of appreciation by the City of Romulus. Making the presentation is Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael (left) to officers (from left) Frank Zoltowski, Joseph Dolencic and Robert Kahl. On Sept. 1, law enforcement services in Romulus will be taken over by the road patrol division of the Wayne County Sheriff.

Police have city's appreciation, but the feeling is not mutual

By HENRY CANTIN

Certificates of appreciation have been presented by the City of Romulus to officers of the Romulus Police Department.

The certificates awarded to the city police officers last Thursday by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael were given in recognition of "dedicated service" by the officers while serving city over the past years.

The men receiving the administration's thanks were

Sgt. Robert Taylor, Patrolmen Richard Yeramian, Frank Zoltowski, Joseph Dolencic, William Wensko and Robert Kahl, president of the Romulus Police Officers Association.

On Sept. 1, the road patrol division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department will take over law enforcement services in Romulus on a 24-hour seven-day a week three-year contract.

Members of the current city police force can transfer to the county sheriff department under the provisions of the contract.

In presenting the certificates of appreciation, Mayor Carmichael said:

"On behalf of the City of Romulus, I would like to take this opportunity to express a very sincere appreciation and offer heartfelt thanks to the officers of the Romulus Police Department for their very commendable and dedicated service to the City of Romulus over the years."

"The City of Romulus has taken a historic step, and believe, a very progressive one in the field of police protection. I am very confident that the city's contractual agreement with Wayne County will prove to be the most efficient and economical method of providing police protection for the city.

"The city has taken every precaution to assure that first, and most importantly the city of Romulus receives the very best law enforcement available at the most economical cost to its readers and secondly, that our own employees are assured equal or better employment opportunities. I am confident that these ends have been met in the recent signing of the law enforcement agreement."

"Again, to the members of the Romulus Police Officers Association—thanks."

Robert Kahl, president of the association, who was one of the recipients of the certificates of appreciation, accepted the certificate and

Historic police contract takes effect next week

By HENRY CANTIN

Law enforcement will take a historic step in the City of Romulus at midnight, Aug. 31.

At that time, the start of a unprecedented-making law enforcement contract between the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol Division and the city will be officially under way.

The contract will provide the city with 24-hour a day, seven days a week while police protection backed by the complete police and investigation services of the sheriff department.

The entire 22 scout car fleet of the sheriff's department will be available to the city.

The contract calls for two scout cars to be assigned to the city permanently, operating out of the road patrol headquarters, located on Henry Ruff Road, Westland. A building near the city's new municipal building will also be used.

The initial cost for the first year of the five year contract will be $378,000. The contract is subject to review annually and can be terminated by either party upon 12 months notice after a two-year expiration.

The price includes two officers patrolling the city during the daytime hours, four patrolling in the afternoon and another four from midnight until dawn.

Patrol cars assigned to Romulus will bear "Romulus Police Department" insignia. Such designations will be on magnetic signs that can be instantly removed in case of patrol car breakdown and transferred to another car thus making the entire patrol fleet of the road patrol division available at all time to the city.

An orientation meeting between sheriff department personnel and Romulus City officials will be held at the road patrol division today (Wednesday) at 2 p.m.

A detailed explanation of sheriff department facilities and services that are now to serve the city will be given along with a tour of the road patrol division and other units.

Under Sheriff Loren Pittman reported that an explanation of the county-city law enforcement contract will be given to each shift of police personnel at the end and start of shifts starting at 7 a.m. today.

Pittman also said that from 20 to 30 police officers will be involved in the orientation program. These men will be available at all times to assist in law enforcement work in Romulus, he said.

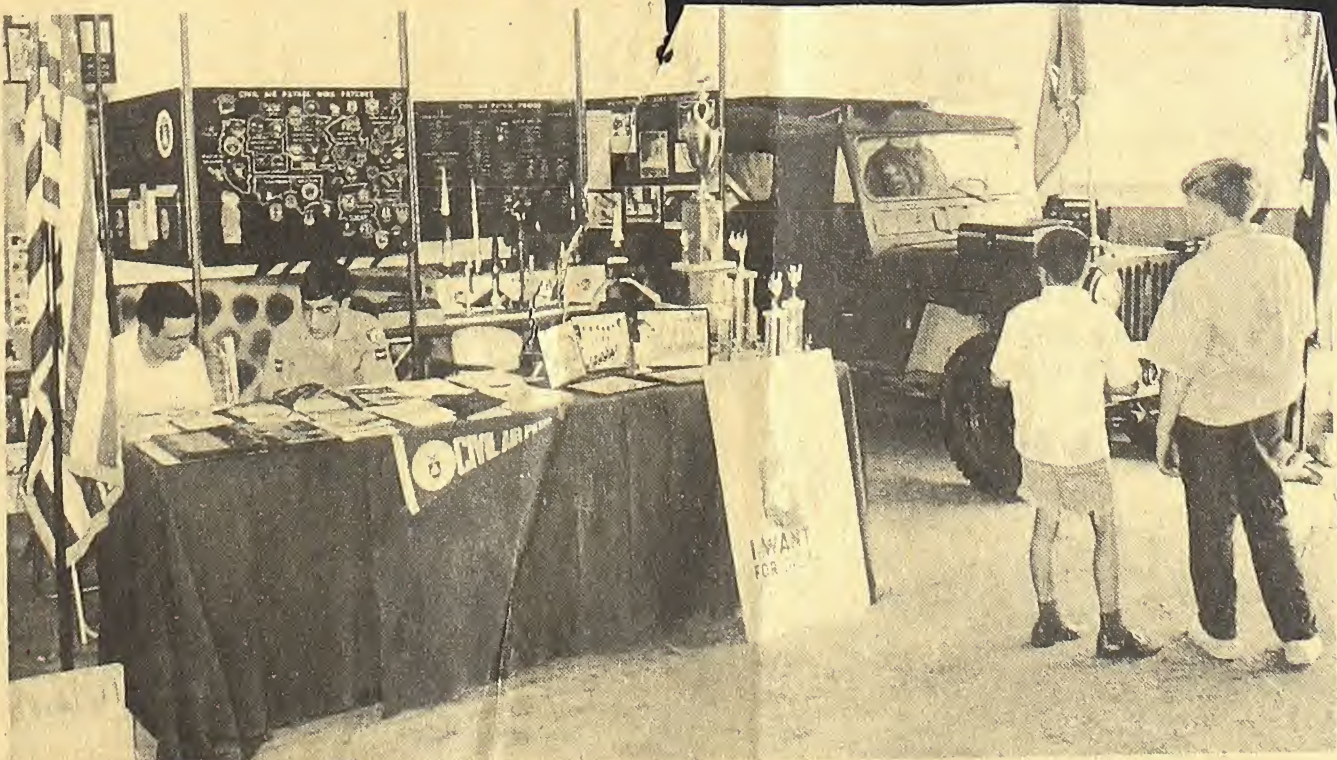

School electorate ok's proposal

Voters in the Airport Community School District, in a special election Monday, approved, 1054-898, a $3.95 million building proposal.

Under the bonding program, a new high school and a new elementary school are to be built and classrooms added to two elementary schools in the district.

The district was under an order from the state education department to either renovate the district by voted millage or impose millage amounting to five per cent of the district's state equalized valuation.

CIVIL AIR PATROL — The Wayne-Romulus Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) maintained a booth at the Wayne County 4-H Fair. CAP wing patches along with various awards and trophies won by the squadron were on display. Literature regarding CAP's history and its activities as a training unit approved by the United States Air Force was distributed.

The Circu

Pollution control step is announced by GM

Construction will begin next month on two major pollution control projects at GMC Truck & Coach Division as its biggest expansion and modernization program in history continues on schedule.

Martin J. Caserio, General Motors vice president and divisional general manager, said separate facilities for consuming solid industrial wastes and treating liquid wastes will be completed in the fall of 1973.

He said the $10.5 million projects include what is believed to be the first major industrial application of a spreader stoker type boiler for cycling solid wastes into steam power and a central plant for chemically treating process water used in GMC production operations.

Reporting the progress of other GMC building programs, Caserio said truck assembly operations will begin next May at a 1.6 million square foot plant being built adjacent to existing production facilities in Pontiac.

Steel and roofing for the new assembly plant is essentially completed, he reported, and installation of equipment for the 468,000 square foot production parts warehouse is underway. The plant is scheduled to be completely enclosed by early November.

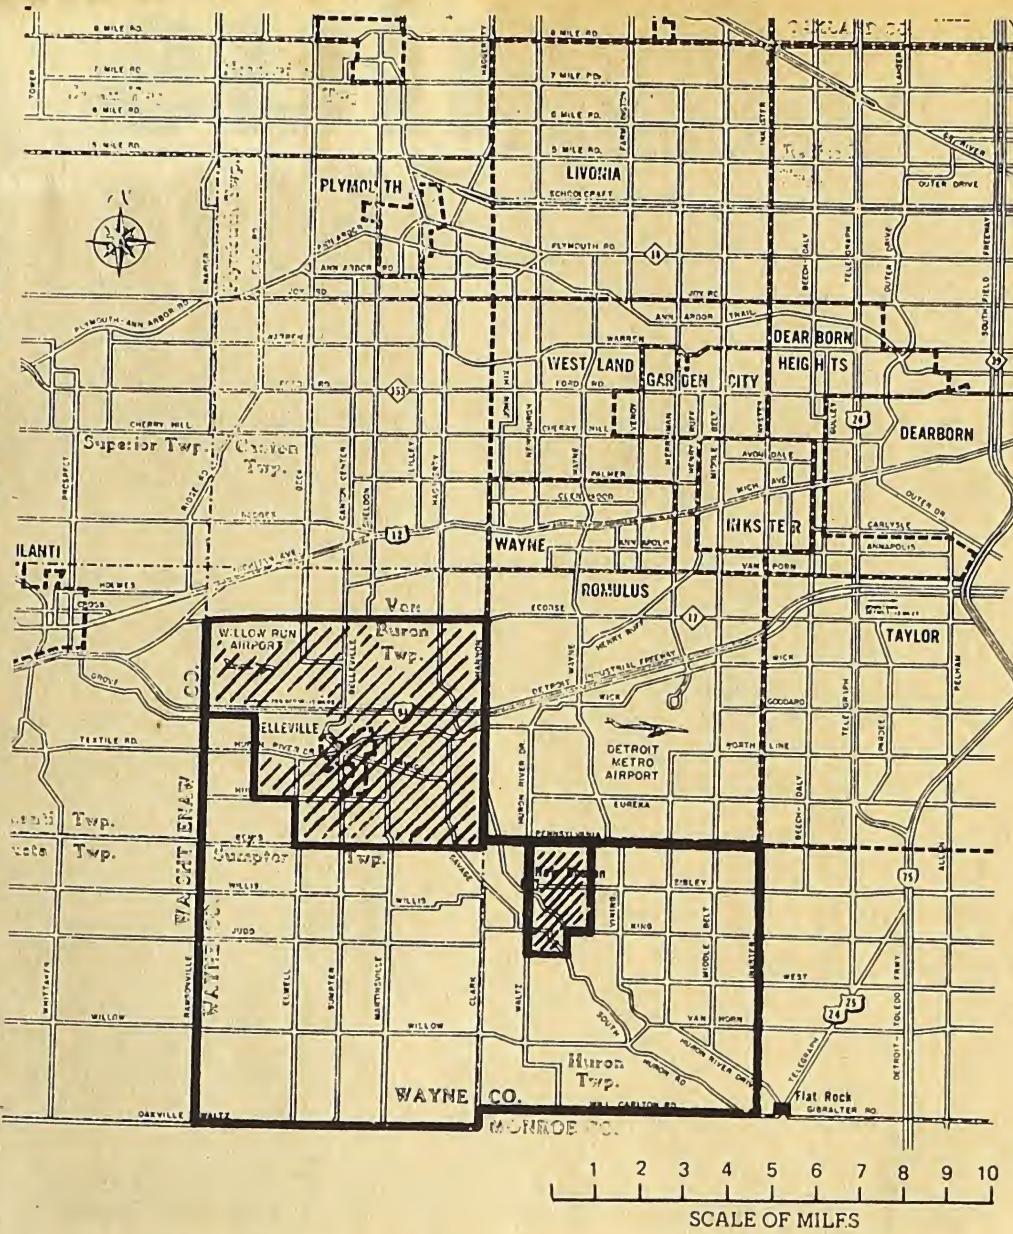

Nearing completion is the division's one million square foot Masters Parts Center at Willow Run Airport, about 35 miles west of Detroit, and expansion and modernization of coach building facilities in Pontiac.

When fully operational within five months, the Master Parts Center will ship over 106,000 types of service parts through a national network of 11 field warehouses, Caserio said.

The unique solid waste consuming facility will feature a 95-foot high waste and coal burning boiler for generating steam power. It is designed to consume virtually all combustible solid wastes from throughout the GMC plant complex, reducing them to a highly-compacted, hygienically-clean ash.

The liquid waste treatment plant will be equipped with the most effective purification systems available for chemically treating process water containing dissolved metals, acids, cleaners and general liquid wastes.

Scouts return from trip to IM Isle Royale

Members of Boy Scout Troop 231 sponsored by the Trinity Episcopal Church of Belleville returned this week from a trip to Isle Royale.

In preparation for the trip, the scouts held two campouts. The first one at the Elwell Road campsite was an introduction to dry and instant foods. The second campout incorporated hiking the 17 mile Potawatomi Trail in Livingston County.

The troop treated their families to a picnic at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park prior to leaving on their trip. The parents were there to check last minute plans and wish the boys a safe journey.

Leaving early on Thursday, July 29, under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster Lee Hallett, George Wilson and Charles Cabbage were the following scouts:

The troop's first camp was made at a Houghton County Park and the scouts visited Munishing Falls and Meyers Castle.

Highlights of the trip were the six-hour boat trip to the island, fishing at McCargoe Cove, wilderness camping at Sargeant Lake and the beautiful scenery of the Minong Ridge Trail. Moose, fox, racoons and loons were some of the wildlife sighted.

The scouts returned home on Monday afternoon, Aug. 9.

Soil surveyers finish in Sumpter

The Wayne County Cooperative Soil Survey team has finished field mapping in Sumpter Township, Dan Kesseling, district conservationist, USDA Soil Conservation Service (SCS) reported the field work was completed last week.

The soils information gathered has been recorded on aerial photographs by the Soil Scientists for all of Sumpter Township. At the present time only single copies of these aerial photographs, or field sheets as they are called by the Soil Scientists, are in existence.

Copies are not available for distribution.

However, anyone who wants to get information on the soils on a particular parcel of land can come to the SCS office at 2006 S. Wayne Rd., Westland and copy the soil map from the field sheet. A good way to do this is to use thin tracing paper and trace the lines and symbols from the soil map.

A limited number of copies of the field sheets will be reproduced and made available in the spring of 1972. These copies will be made only for the townships that are completed in 1971, according to Kesseling.

Since the SCS people spend much of their time in the field, it would be best to call ahead and arrange an appointment if you want to get information on soils that have already been mapped. About 47,000 acres have been mapped so far in 1971.

City appreciative; policemen aren't commented afterwards that presentation of the certificate to association members was "very hollow and without meaning."

He said that he was speaking for himself as for the association and added, "they negotiated our jobs from under us under the premises that we gave very poor service. Now we are told that the certificates are for 'outstanding service.'"

He added that officers accepted the certificates of appreciation on the advice of their attorney and for the sake of maintaining continuity while pursuing further court action on the association's suit to halt police contract with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department which is scheduled to be taken over law enforcement services in the City of Romulus on Sept. 1. Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Farmer ruled against the association's suit for injunction relief. An appeal on this decision is being contemplated, Kahl announced.

government from behind closed doors. It is odd that Mr. Raspberry would try to misconstrue the remarks on a tape recorder for his defense, when this same individual a few short weeks ago asked the other council members to prohibit the use of tape recorders by the public to record a few of the open meetings our city council holds.

Plank says the advisory committee is ready to publicly discuss the issues involved at any time.

Stoelton-Lambert defense motion denied

By HENRY CANTIN

Motions to dismiss attempt bribery charges against former Van Buren Township Supervisor Edward C. Stoelton and Joseph J. Lambert, manager of the Romulus branch of the Secretary of State office were denied by Wayne County Circuit Judge Charles S. Kaufman.

Stoelton of 43308 Alva Dr., Belleville; and Lambert, of Southfield, have pleaded not guilty to charges that they conspired to solicit a bribe in the amount of $12,000 from the State Land Co. a sand excavating firm, and Mrs. Florence Poniatowski, Van Buren Township land owner at 40192 I-94 Expressway.

Both defendants are out on a $1,000 personal bond.

The court, in handing down its decision last week ordered opposing attorneys to contact the court on setting a trial date. As of Monday, a check with the court disclosed that no trial has been set.

In addition to denying motions to dismiss, the court also dismiss motions for separate trials for the defendants.

The criminal charges against the two men, filed by the Wayne County Prosecutor's office, followed an investigation by the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol Division of a complaint made by John Seefelt, co-owner of the State Land Co.

The alleged attempt bribery information accused the pair of conspiring to solicit bribes from Seefelt and Mrs. Poniatowski, on whose land, the firm was engaged in sand excavating work.

The bribes were to be exchange for allowing renewal of the firm's sand removal permit by the township.

Stoelton was supervisor of the township from December, 1968 until Nov. 20, 1970 and a member of the township board for 11 years prior to becoming supervisor.

The defense attorneys sought dismissal of the charges, contending that the warrants on which the pair were arrested did not charge them with an offense specifically defined as a crime under common law or by State Statute.

They also contended that 33rd District Judge Gerald A. McNally abused his discretion in holding Stoelton and Lambert for circuit court trial following the pre-trial examination conducted before him.

Judge Kaufman in his decision said: "The defendants contend that the testimony adduced at the examination fails to establish a crime which would constitute an indictable offense to be tried in the Circuit Court. The defendants as a corollary further allege that they were deprived of the right of cross examination. A perusal of the entire transcript of the examination held before the district judge clearly indicates to this court that the defendant's right of cross examination was not unduly curtailed and, therefore, this contention must fall."

"It is further the finding of this court that there was sufficient competent evidence adduced at the examination to form the basis of the district judge's finding that a crime was committed and that there was probable cause to believe that these defendants were the perpetrators."

The court stated that the statutory requirement that all proceedings in district court be made on the record has not been violated by the failure to make a record on the issuance of the warrant. The court added:

"The warrant itself constitutes the record and it would appear to this court that there are no open court proceedings on the issuance of the warrant which the statute contemplates in requiring that a record be made of all

Blood needed

Hemophiliacs, surgery patients and accident victims are in constant need of blood. In fact, Red Cross must collect 450 units of blood daily in order to meet the blood needs of you and your neighbors.

Join the many others in your community who care enough to donate their blood so that others may live. Blood cannot be manufactured, it must be donated by you.

So that you can easily become a lifesaver...by being a blood donor, the Red Cross bloodmobile will be located at the West Office, ARC, 2440 S. Telegraph at Oxford, Dearborn, on Thursday August 26, from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

"It would further appear to this court that while exact dates may not have been fixed in the testimony of the prosecuting witnesses, that there was a sufficient fixing of times and places upon which the district judge could make a determination of facts in order to make the decision which he did."

In ruling against the defense argument that the warrant did not charge the defendants with an offense specifically defined as crime by state statute or under common law, the court cited supporting decisions to hold that solicitation of a bribe by a public official is a complete common-law offense.

McGinnisses are thankful; hope for final miracle

By BEVERLY MCANALLY

Mrs. Eva McGinnis came from Seaway Hospital in Trenton last Thursday to a home with comforts and conveniences that she never expected to have.

"I didn't have much as a child at home and we've never had much since we've been married. It's just wonderful that people have been so kind."

Eva, one of 14 children, came to Michigan with her husband Arnold after their marriage in Ashland, Ky., fourteen years ago. They have lived in the Van Buren - Romulus area since 1967 and are buying a modest home at 39820 Huron River Dr.

The family, which includes six daughters between 4 and 13 years of age, has denied themselves all but the necessities to try to meet their obligations during Eva's illness, which began about three years ago. Her doctors now say there's no hope and, barring a miracle, Eva will soon lose her battle with cancer.

Through the interest, prayers and assistance of Enterprise-Roman readers, their lives have taken a hopeful turn. During the last month two bank accounts have been established in their name, their house payments have been brought up to date, a prescription fund has been started at a local pharmacy, appliances (washer, dryer, stove) have been installed, new and nearly new furniture had been given, carpeting and linoleum laid, the children have been clothed and well fed and other comforts are in the planning.

"We want to thank all the people for everything they've done for us," said McGinnis,

"I don't have the words that I'd like to tell them how much we appreciate their help," he added.

"We've seen a miracle already," said Eva, "We never dreamed so many would care. God's been good to me. Now, if he'll let me live to raise my children I know that I will dedicate my life to Christ." It's been Eva's faith in God that has sustained her, along with her belief that miracles can happen.

Sunday morning, Eva felt well enough to lie in the front seat of the family's car and ride with her husband to pick up their children from services at the First Baptist Church of Woodhaven in Trenton, where the McGinnis's were the first family to be baptized together.

"My minister, Pastor Harold Lewis, has been so good. He comes to the house several times a week to pray with me," Eva said the church people have stood by her faithfully through her ordeal.

Eva has strength and she frequently displays a pixie-like sense of humor, even when talking about the grim future life seems to hold for her. On Saturday, Arnold and a friend poured a new back porch and stairs. At the doorway to the kitchen Eva has pressed two bare footprints in the wet concrete. Two bare left foot prints. Above them she has inscribed her name. "Two left feet," she mused, "You'll always remember me."

She hopes people will continue to remember her. She looks forward to the mail each day for the cards and inspirational message. She asked the people to pray for her recovery. "No man can do it, but God can make a miracle," she said.

Jaycees praised for petition drive

We're happy to see that the Michigan Jaycees, who played a dominant role in the 1958 call for a state constitutional convention, are joining in the attempt to place the issue of a one-house legislature for Michigan before the voters next year.

The Jaycees, at the summer convention last weekend in Marquette, agreed to seek the required 300,000 petition signature on the 1972 ballot.

It's an issue that has been brought up in the Michigan House of Representatives by Rep. Joseph Swallow of Alpena, but has had some rough going so far. Hence, Swallow went to the Jaycees for help.

In saying that we're happy the Jaycees have committed themselves to the petition project, we're not saying that we're necessarily in favor of dumping the present two-house arrangement currently in use. At least, we're not in favor of it at this time.

That's because we've heard only glowing reports of the unicameral set-up and little of its potential shortcomings, which we're sure it has like any other system. Nebraska is unique among the 50 United States in having a one-house legislature, so people are starting to look there for ideas about the unicameral way.

Swallow himself along with Don Hoenshell of our Panax Corporation Lansing Bureau - went to Nebraska earlier this month to gather more information about the unicameral system for his presentation to the Jaycees. Hoenshell contributed a four-part series on Nebraska's set-up that was published in The Daily Eagle last week.

On the surface, there must be a monetary savings in the unicameral method. Swallow proposes a 76-member one-house legislature as compared to the 148-member two-house system currently in Michigan.

In addition, reports from the state which is also processing of the committee work. This includes open to news.

And we consider - called executive use of them - interests.

We're also happy that such a public review of the two-house vs. one-house systems will provide opportunities in the next 15 months for both sides to spell out for the citizens the good and bad points of each system.

Not to be forgotten is the fact that recent court rulings also may have outdated the two-house system with their one-man, one-vote decisions. The two-house system was set up with the House of Representatives based on population and the Senate on territory. The latter is now unconstitutional.

In years gone by...

A look through The Daily Eagle files at news of Western Wayne County one, 15 and 25 years ago:

25 YEARS AGO
Aug. 25, 1946 - Arrival of the Mobile Tool Shop, gift of U.S. Navy to the Wayne school system, was expected momentarily, School Business Manager Robert Baum said. A crew left during the early part of the week to pick up the shop from the Crane Naval Ammunition Depot at Crane, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, 3534 Second street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, with a family picnic in Washington Park, attended by their immediate family.

Tickets for the gala Rotary Club charity White Horse Show are available to the public, with advance sales indicating a capacity crowd for the four-day performance beginning Sept. 5 on the grounds just west of the Wayne County Sheriff's road patrol on Michigan avenue.

Sumpter Township's first Fall Festival has been set for Sept. 20. It will be an evening country fair, at a place to be announced later by the committee.

Sponsored by the Mothers' Club of West Sumpter school, the affair has been enthusiastically acclaimed by the 4-H club county leader, Miss Marie Wolfe, as well as by the new school board president, Mrs. Ida Weller, whose suggestion that it be expanded to include the six schools of the newly organized Sumpter district has been accepted.

15 YEARS AGO
Aug. 25, 1956 - With the announced intention that "everyone in Nankin township will be given an opportunity to register for the fall elections," the League of Women Voters began a registration campaign.

"Most people have a vague idea of Girl Scout activities, but they have no inkling of the fun until they go on a camping trip," Mrs. E.M. Cleveland, said after accompanying six senior scouts on an eight day trip to the Porcupine Mountains.

Mrs. Cleveland, of 1714 Lathers, leader of Garden City

Troop 1002, and Mr. Cleveland, Dad's Patrol Coordinator for the Garden City area, went on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Denhard of 4450 Academy and family arrived home from a week's vacation at Higgins Lake. Their children, David, Duane, Douglas and Dennis, enjoyed a wonderful time.

An all out effort by Romulus Township officials to clean up Airport Homes was indicated for the first time.

Described as "the biggest, slum district in Wayne County," by a township official, the airport homes project has long been recognized as such by residents.

Possibility of condemning all or part of the project is being checked by township attorney's.

ONE YEAR AGO
Aug. 25, 1970 - The Garden City Board of Education has approved a series of special teacher assignments for the 1970-71 school year. Taking over in the position of assistant football coach at East Senior High will be Wade Payne. Head wrestling coach will be Carl Stevens and the position of junior class sponsor will be filled by Richard Popp.

As a result of fireman Kenneth Warfield being promoted to the rank of sergeant on the Wayne Fire Department, six men have lost immediate opportunities for promotion, said Chief Henry Goudy.

Warfield was promoted to the sergeant's spot after the Michigan Department of Labor's Employment Relations Commission found that he was discriminated against for union activities during promotions last year.

Westland Mayor Eugene McKinney has announced the appointment of Westland's two representatives to the new Commission on Drug Abuse.

The two appointees are Mark Scarr, 39, of 33252 Anita Dr., a former member of the defunct Nankin Mills Board of Education, and Carl Block, 40, of 30524 Avon Place, who served on the Task Force on Drugs, the forerunner to the commission.

Public recreation wins funds

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK, State Representative, 38th District

Among the recently signed new public acts of the state is one appropriating $23.9 million for public recreation projects. This includes $14.8 million for state recreational projects and $9.1 million for local projects.

The funds, which come from a $100 million recreation bond issue approved by voters in 1968, are administered by the department of natural resources.

Under a formula worked out by the legislature, part of the bond issue money must be used for recreational projects in and around urban areas.

facilities authority under the Department of Education.

The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill which would require that damaged buildings be either repaired or demolished. This would enable local authorities to take action against abandoned or damaged structures that create blight and are serious safety hazards. It is estimated that there are close to 2,000 such buildings in the City of Detroit alone.

The Governor has vetoed one bill. Rejected was a expiration date on a law that permits Kidney gifts by mental incompetents.

House bills passed in the House include one which would establish a uniform child custody code. The proposal, now under consideration in the Senate, was recommended by the Michigan Law Revision Commission. It would make Michigan's law similar to those in other states.

The House has approved and sent to the Senate a bill which would require that all handicapped children in Michigan are provided with necessary education programs and services.

It requires the State Board of Education to prepare a preliminary plan for education of the handicapped by July 1, 1972, and a final plan by March 1, 1973. Local school districts would have to furnish special education programs and services either directly or by contract with another educational agency.

Such services would provide for special education throughout the state for children who are mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed and who have physical, vision, hearing, speech and learning disability handicaps.

Supporters of the bill maintained that while most school systems have special education programs there are still many thousands of retarded, disturbed and handicapped children who are not receiving the services they need.

Concerned resident hits unguided youths

To the editor:

After considerable thought, I have decided to write a letter of protest.

Over 20 years ago, we decided to move to Belleville and have never been sorry. Many things we liked about this town. The beautiful little park, right in the center of it. The lake and shade trees on Liberty Street, which have long been gone.

We still have the lake, with beautiful homes surrounding it. We still have the park, but for some unknown reason, it has become a haven for a group of unprincipled young people, who have no concern for the people surrounding it. They drink beer, throw bottles and papers all over the park, race their cars and motorcycles all hours of the night up and down Main Street, throw bricks through store windows, even though our police department is just across the street.

It has been reported to the sheriff, but they too have been unable to control the situation.

I put it up to the people. Is this what we want in our city to be like? Is this the quiet peaceful city that we all so much enjoyed?

Are we going to sit back and let these unguided youth ruin our town?

With all the civic organizations this town has, it seems that they could get together and do something about it.

A VERY CONCERNED CITIZEN

Is it true you can't fight township hall?

To the editor:

It has long been said "You cannot fight City Hall". Does the same rule apply for all governing bodies including Township Halls?

Will it ever be possible for the people in Van Buren Township to have a Supervisor and Board that is concerned with the individuals' problems?

After living and owning property in this township over the past 35 years, I have watched the government gradually be taken over by a few select interests.

Prior to the last election I heard our Supervisor state that he had no commitment to trailer courts, so within four months of being in office he cast a deciding vote to expand a trailer court. I hoped his election would eliminate the rascals that were in office before but it seems I replaced the old one with a new one.

It seems our Supervisor feels that 200 mobile homes are a benefit to the township as a unit. However due to Highway I-94 expansion which is taking my home I must seek new housing. I have gone to the Board of Appeals and have appeared before the township board requesting permission for temporary housing in a mobile home which they have denied me.

Perhaps they want me to live in a trailer court and not on my 43 acre farm where I have certain daily obligations.

Is our Supervisor fulfilling a political promise or could he have an interest in the trailer courts?

An additional complaint may be filed regarding highway signs. A favored few seem to gain permission to erect these signs on their property. I have been told if there are complaints against the signs they will be removed. There have been complaints but the rascals in office cannot hear them.

It is no wonder that a survey published two weeks ago in a Detroit paper showed that 49.6 per cent of the people have lost all confidence in the officials of their country.

Where is your integrity Mr. Supervisor and members of our Township Board?

New Yorkers enjoy first visit to 4-H Fair

To the editor:

We attended our first 4-H Fair on Wednesday evening, Aug. 18 and were pleasantly surprised at the exhibits.

The 4-H leaders are to be commended for the time and effort expended with boys and girls.

The 4-H members themselves should be applauded for the excellent condition of the animals and the ingenious art work.

The hours spent by both adults and children readying for the fair gave much enjoyment to many.

We are looking forward to next years and an exciting fun-filled evening at the annual Wayne County 4-H Fair.

Lansing report

Welfare, education control state costs

Massive slashes in state school aid and welfare appropriations will be used to keep Michigan's 1971-72 budget from soaring beyond revenues.

It's the start of a new era in which the costs of education and welfare are controlling state spending.

In other years, the flexible cushion at budget-making time was the capital outlay appropriations bill, granting money for new buildings at colleges and universities and elsewhere.

For months, the House and Senate have worked on the rest of the $2.035 billion budget and the figures in 12 other budget bills are pretty well fixed.

When the $47.1 million budget for military affairs and the Michigan State Police was passed by the Senate, it cut only $2.4 million from the figures originally enacted by the House.

It was clear that the appropriations committees had boiled out all the water possible.

Later there was an unsigned memorandum distributed in a House committee which was used in contemplating the scope of state school aid for the fiscal year. It said:

"Since the less-expensive appropriations bills have received favorable action in one of the other house, these two major bills (school aid and welfare) are the only ones remaining that are usable for balancing the budget ..."

That statement was made to explain drastic school aid cuts in the Senate, a drop from $1.3 billion to 1.041 billion from the original House bill.

The big reduction came with the Senate decision to put an $8 million ceiling on the "grandfather's clause," down 40 per cent from last year, that guarantees that no school district will get less state aid than it did the preceding year.

BELLE VILLA TOWNHOUSES A new townhouse complex, located on a 28-acre subdivision at Sumpter and Hull Roads — the Belle Villa Townhouses — was viewed by the public last week. The townhouses are being produced by Fruehauf Corp. for private owners comprising a four-way partnership. The new townhouses, "a maintenance-free plan for modern man," in two and three bedroom models, and are now opened from 1 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on weekdays except Thursday and 1 to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sundays.

Belle Villa: 'country living'

"A new way of country living," featuring the advantages of maintenance-free home ownership, was introduced at the opening of Belle Villa Townhouses last week.

The 28-acre development is located near the northeast intersection of Sumpter and Hull Roads in Belleville and will consist of 291 townhouses with a choice of one, two or three bedroom units. The homes will be sold under a condominium arrangement which relieves the owner of exterior maintenance work and responsibilities.

Belle Villa is owned by a group of private investors: Ed Kuzel, Charles Paas, James Ackron and Louis A. Tuth. It will be marked by RDE Corporation.

The homes are factory-built, including appliances and floor coverings, at the Ypsilanti plant of Fruehauf Buildings, a division of Fruehauf Corporation, delivered to the site by truck and placed by crane on foundations already in place. Each unit will have its own private court yard and patio. With comfort and relaxation a major consideration, a large portion of the land in the development has been devoted to landscaped parks and recreation areas. Play areas for the children, bikeways and a swimming pool add to the development's outstanding recreational facilities. Commenting on the ideal location, Will A. Schwehr, of RDE Corporation, said, "Belle Villa is right in the heart of the beautiful Belleville lake area, providing the best of both worlds — townhouse living in the country, but with easy access to Detroit and Ann Arbor via the I-94 Freeway."

All units will be equipped with gas-fired forced air heating and central air conditioning systems. Complete nylon carpeting is furnished, and kitchen and bath floors will be vinyl covered. Appliances included are range and oven, refrigerator, disposal, electric washer and dryer.

Design features include flame-resistant galvanized structural steel framing. Exteriors will feature face-brick and aluminum siding, both maintenance free.

Schwehr said that the concept of condominium ownership was adopted here because it best reflects the pattern of living combining both the attributes of home ownership and maintenance-free living.

In considering site factors, emphasis was placed on family living. BELLEVILLE is served by Van Buren School District, considered one of the best in Wayne County. The location is close to churches of many faiths.

Models of the two- and three-bedroom townhouses are now open to the public from 1 to 8:30 p.m. on weekdays, except Thursday, and from 1 to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

The townhouses are available for purchase and occupancy now.

County ASCS will handle freeze questions

All residents of Wayne County may obtain answers to questions on operation and interpretation of the Presidential order of Aug. 15 on prices, rents, wages and salaries from the Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office.

County ASCS offices throughout the United States have been chosen as information centers to answer questions from all citizens on President Nixon's Executive Order which is designed to stem inflation and strengthen the national economy.

The Wayne County ASCS Office is receiving official answers to questions concerning the President's action, and any person in Wayne County who wants or needs precise information should get in touch with the county Office, said Arthur Monks, chairman of the committee.

The Wayne County ASCS Office is located at Room 28B, Wayne Post Office, Wayne. The mailing address is 3716 Newberry St. The telephone number is 721-7932.

In charge of the office is Mrs. Dolores Londeau, county executive director. The office has a staff of two persons, Ruth Orwin and Pauline Rathbun.

"Ours and all ASCS offices throughout the nation, will function as information centers in all locations outside of highly urbanized areas," Monks said.

County ASCS offices are not to handle complaints or appeals, he said. They will serve only to provide official information.

Vocational guidance program to continue at Romulus High

Romulus Community School District has been approved for an extension of the exemplary project entitled Vocational Occupational Guidance for Out-of-School Youth, Mrs. Lorena Burton, coordinator of federal and state programs for the school district, announced Monday.

The extension is for a period from Sept. 1 through June 30, 1972.

The purpose of this program is to provide youth and young adults who did not complete their high school education with training in the development of skills and attitudes necessary to acquire gainful employment.

Two classes that are being continued are cosmetology and auto-mechanics. These two classes are not a part of the regular vocational education program at Romulus Senior High School.

This project is federally funded and classes are offered after school, evenings and Saturdays. Presently classes are not open to students still in school or those who have graduated from high school.

This program is coordinated through the Compensatory Continuing Education offices at the Romulus High School.

Registrations are now open for auto mechanics. Not more than 20 students can be accepted for the class. For further information contact Mrs. Burton or William Smith, the school district's new Community School Director at 941-1600.

The date of registration is Thursday, Sept. 9, at 6:30 p.m.

At this time applicants will have the opportunity to discuss the program with the instructor and other personnel.

The cosmetology program offered under the vocational occupational guidance program will continue its classes starting September, 1971. This will mark the beginning of the second complete year for the students of this program.

Several of the students have completed about half of the 1,500 hour requirements for Cosmetology Certification.

Mary Pickford Festival slated

Nine of the greatest and most popular films of "America's Sweetheart," Mary Pickford, the first superstar of motion pictures, are returning to the Midwest later this year after an absence of more than 40 years.

Henry Ford Museum at Greenfield Village in Dearborn, in conjunction with the American Film Institute and the Pickford Corporation, will present an exclusive Mary Pickford film festival five weekends beginning Nov. 5.

The festival had its premiere at the American Film Institute Theater in Washington, D.C. last December and went from there to the British Film Institute in Briton, England.

It has also been shown to enthusiastic audiences at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art and, most recently, at the DeYoung Museum in San Francisco.

There are plans for future presentations at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, in Canada and in several European countries. Miss Pickford personally selected the films included in this series. They span the period from 1910 to 1929 and best represent her career in films from her earliest two-reelers through the advent of sound.

In 1931, Miss Pickford announced that she had bought the negatives to her early films and that these and the pictures she produced as one of the founders of United Artists in 1920 would never be shown again and would be destroyed upon her death. Her friend, Lillian Gish, and Buddy Rogers, her husband since 1937, prevailed upon her to change her mind.

The current series of showings are the result. All films have been painstakingly preserved and carefully printed by the Pickford Corporation.

"The Mary Pickford Film Festival: A Retrospective Tribute" will be presented in the Henry Ford Museum Theater on Friday and Saturday evenings with matinees on Saturday and Sunday. Matinees will be at 2:30, evening performances at 8:30.

Tickets will be $2 each with a special-rate series ticket available. Matinee showings on week days can be arranged for groups. For additional information call Henry Ford Museum Audio-Visual department at 271-1620, extension 329.

A special gala preview is planned for Thursday, Nov. 4 at which Buddy Rogers will be on hand to represent Miss Pickford.

Marine Drum, Bugle Corps set for Fair

The world famous United States Marine Drum and Bugle Corps and the Ceremonial Drill Team, based in Washington, D.C., will perform at the 1971 Michigan State Fair, September 5th, 6th and 7th, Fair Manager, E.J. Keirns announced today.

The Corps, which appeared at the fair last year, has a repertoire ranging from traditional marches to modern melodies.

The Corps includes 14 soprano bugles, six French horn bugles, eight baritone bugles and three contra-bass baritone bugles. The drums — bass, tenor and snare — and the crashing cymbals round out the instrumentation. This combination offers the greatest variety to the music and a sensational sound.

IT'S NOT MIRRORS — What you're really seeing is Cedar Point's Cindy and Candy Doty, a unique twin dance team that highlights a musical revue at the Centennial Theatre on Cedar Point's Funway. Cindy and Candy, dance theatre majors at Indiana University, complement a cast of 17 college and professional entertainers who put on eight shows each day at the Centennial. Their 30-minute program is a fast paced musical revue that ranges from old-time minstrel to modern rock.

'Light Up The Sky'

Joseph Z. Nederlander presents "Light Up The Sky," a revival of the comedy by Moss Hart in three acts, directed by Harold J. Kennedy. At the Fisher Theatre through Sept. 19 with the following cast: Vivian Blaine, Kitty Carlisle, Paul Ford, Sam Levene, Ruth McDevitt, Russell Nye, Hayden Rorke, Harold J. Kennedy, Michael Goodwin, Peggy Winslow.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Drama Critic

"Mad, sire? Ah, yes — mad indeed, but observe how they do light up the sky," said Old Skroob in "The Idle Jester," giving Moss Hart the title for his comedy about stage folk the night of a pre-Broadway opening in Boston, the revival of which opened the Fisher season.

And madness there is in plenty to turn this sparkling spoof over to the heavy hands of director Harold J. Kennedy to squeeze all the joy out of it. Madness especially on the part of two of the stars, Kitty Carlisle, who is Moss Hart's widow, and Sam Levene, who is recreating his original role. Both of them know how the comedy should be played and must be aware of what Kennedy is doing to it.

"Light Up the Sky" concerns the frauds — producer, director and leading lady — who have taken an allegory to Boston for its pre-Broadway opening, gushing sweet accord before their initial performance, then savagely turning on each other and on the hapless young author after an opening night disaster. By the time the critics come out to proclaim it a hit, the disgusted author has packed up and left, leaving the company with a potential hit and no writer to perfect it.

Vivian Blaine should be a natural for the producer's brassy wife, but she plays it as a lady. The potential is there — all that is needed is a bit more "Guys and Dolls," but Kennedy has given her no guidance.

Neither has he helped two other fine actors, Russell Nye as the star's schnooky husband, nor Ruth McDevitt, as the star's blistering mother. Both are capable of better if properly directed. Nye just stands there, and Miss McDevitt is far too gentle as the tough old mother; her role too should be broader.

Kennedy's interpretation of the emotional director who cries at the drop of the hat, defies description.

Only Miss Carlisle as the actress, and Levene, as the producer, acquit themselves well. Miss Carlisle as the phony, imperious star and Levene as the crude status-seeker, and they both have the original production to guide them. Paul Ford is wasted in a minor role of a stage-struck conventioneer, which he handles well; Michael

At the Northland

'Carnal Knowledge' chock full of talent

Joseph E. Levine presents an Avco Embassy release, "Carnal Knowledge," produced and directed by Mike Nichols, written by Jules Feiffer. Panavision, technicolor. Rated R. 97 minutes. At the Northland Theatre with the following cast: Jack Nicholson, Candice Bergen, Arthur Garfunkel, Ann-Margret, Rita Moreno, Cynthia O'Neal.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

The emergence of Mike Nichols from merely being one of the finest constructors of comedy and drama to an artistic director of the stamp of Fellini or Bergman is clearly marked by "Carnal Knowledge."

Here Nichols is not merely content to tell Jules Feiffer's story (and, Lord, how Feiffer has matured from the rather crude "Little Murders"). He must express it in his own terms. His terms are to examine two college roommates and their women over 20 years with a microscopically close camera. His knife cuts fine; there is no background, no panoramic shots, no minor actors, just the principals.

And they are hewn unbelievably close. A three-way conversation focuses on only one person. A dialog is filmed as a monolog. A tennis game is played and we watch it not, only the reactions of one of the spectators. Nichols does not fully handle his camera which occasionally becomes intrusive and we beg him to back up so we can take a deep breath, but Nichols has made it plain there is nothing he cannot do.

Feiffer's story examines the relationship between Jack Nicholson and Arthur Garfunkel (Jonathon and Sandy) from their postwar collegiate days, when they are obsessed with sex in the not too sophisticated fashion which was once the wont of the then-less worldly collegiates, chiefly their rivalry over Candice Bergen (Susan) Sandy's girl whom Jonathon tries to steal.

After college, both try marriage unsuccessfully. The unassertive Sandy can not cope with Cynthia O'Neal (Cindy), forceful and domineering, while Jonathan begins a long quest of assorted mistresses leading to Ann-Margret (Bobbie), a busty but not over-bright girl whom, after several years of sleeping with him traps him into marriage with an overdose of sleeping pills, divorcing him later.

The point is that carnal knowledge is not the fruit of the tree of knowledge in the Garden of Eden. Carnal knowledge does neither man any good. Sandy winds up with a straight-haired teenager, vacant of face, whom he claims is teaching him things he never knew. Jonathan rapidly losing his virility, must seek out a prostitute, Rita Moreno, who can satisfy him only with a long involved ritual.

"Carnal Knowledge" is the most mature work of not only Nichols and Feiffer. Nicholson, after years of mediocre films, has exceeded his capabilities expressed in the brief vignette of "Easy Rider" and the discontent in "Five Easy Pieces" in this pathetically honed picture of a man who wastes his sexual gifts without ever really achieving satisfaction.

Garfunkel's career since leaving Simon has been briefer, but his role as the lifelong patsy to his women and to his friend leaves him no happier. Ann-Margret is the real surprise. I never knew she had these depths of passion in her; Nichols has a firm hand and brought out more than we have ever seen before. Candice Bergen is the only one seemingly without deep problems; what goes wrong with her relationship probably lies more in her husband than in herself.

If "Carnal Knowledge" is slightly flawed in execution, it is not in design. If you see it, you will find many talents to astonish you.

MEL TORME

Mel Torme brings his many talents to Lofy's Pavilion Room tomorrow for a nine-day run.

Best known for his classic "Christmas Song," with lyrics "Chestnuts roasting on an open fire," Torme has much more to his credit, including the current television program, "That Was a Very Good Year."

A long-time friend of the late Judy Garland, Torme has recently written a book about show business and the Garland era in particular. The volume is entitled "The Other Side of the Rainbow."

Acknowledged as a one-man show, Torme divides his time between the piano and the footlights as he entertains. He is backed up at Lofy's by the Johnny Trudell Band.

The Johnny Trudell Band also plays for dancing before, between and after each show. Show times are 9:30 and 11:30 each evening. Monday through Saturday.

Negotiations end at Huron schools

The Huron School District's Board of Education and Local 214 of the Teamsters State, County & Municipal Workers, representing the school district's custodian, maintenance and bus drivers, have reached an agreement on a new employment contract for the 1971-72 school year.

Terms of the agreement were not disclosed pending ratification by union members, reported Earl Drake, Local 214 business agent.

Approximately 50 employees of the school district are involved in the contract agreement. A ratification meeting is scheduled for this week.

Local 214 is awaiting official instructions from their attorneys and from Washington on the effect of the presidential wage and price freeze order of Aug. 12.

To the editor

Romulus citizens are invited to join recall

To the editor:

I attended the Law Enforcement Committee Meeting at the county level when the Sheriff's Contract was revised. It was apparent the county dictated to our city officials everything they wanted.

Not once did any of our city officials object to the increases in cost of the new and latest contract. They also agreed to pick up the pay increase of approximately $1,000 each for the Sheriff's officers as of Dec. 1, which will bring the contract cost up to approximately $400,000 as of December, 1971, and any other services that Romulus may require will cost the tax payers extra tax dollars.

It is very conceivable that this existing contract could cost the tax payers of Romulus $600,000 after the first year, not to mention the exorbitant amounts for the second and third years.

We should take these tax dollars and build our own police department and give some of our young men and women an opportunity for employment within our own city.

Furthermore, the salaries that are paid out of our tax monies will be leaving our city. Under section 3.3 of the present contract it was stated that is agreeable to both parties, the city would bear the expense of setting up the local office for the Wayne County Sheriff's Department; however, the sheriff's department may use this facility to conduct business not only in Romulus, but anywhere else they see fit. Under any circumstance, we are entitled to certain services from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department for the County taxes we pay.

The taxpayers of Romulus should not have to pay extra for some of these county functions. Nor do I understand why Romulus needed an increase of 1.8 mills in this year's budget. The young people and the Senior Citizens of our Community will be sharing the burden of heavy taxes placed upon them.

At this time I would like to point out that our city employees will not receive an increase in salary because our administration failed to negotiate in good faith.

On Aug. 15, President Nixon's new economic program was established and now as a consequence any salary increases for our city employees in the near future are definitely out. In comparison to other communities in our area our city employees are underpaid. If additional monies are to be expended anywhere, this is one area that should be given serious consideration.

I am petitioning for the recall of certain elected city officials not only because of the administrative position on the police department matter but also because in so many of their acts and deeds.

Neither the mayor nor the council is acting in good faith in matters relating to the specifics of our City Charter; even to the extent of completely disregarding and excluding public discussion.

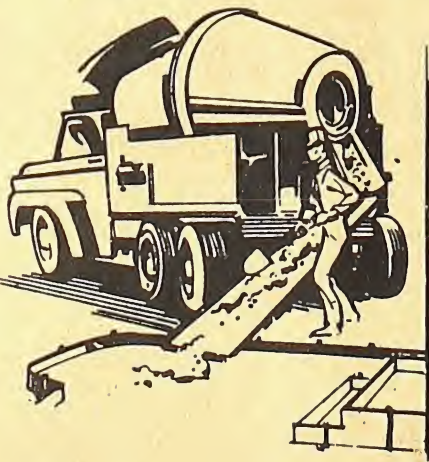

The time has come when the voices of the citizens of this community should be heard. It is high time that the city officials realize that they are to administer the business of the city in accordance with the wishes of the people within the city, not as they would personally and individually wish to do.

You are urged to join this movement by signing a recall petition now. Don't miss this opportunity to put the government of our city back into the hands of the citizens of Romulus.

Set-up second annual display

CAP prominent at fair

For the second year in a row the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol had a feature part of the Wayne County 4-H Fair at Belleville.

The Fair, located at the 4-H Fairgrounds on Quirk Road north of I-94 and west of the Belleville Road exit, was opened to the general public between 9 a.m. and 11 p.m. daily until Sunday.

The CAP portion of the fair was designed to inform the public about the Civil Air Patrol Cadet Program, and possibly to recruit some new members for CAP.

The central portion of the CAP display was a series of large panels showing various parts of the program in action, uniform insignia, awards, and other aspects of CAP membership.

On display are the actual insignia rather than reproductions, including the only Falcon medal ever awarded in the state of Michigan. Included also are many on-the-spot photographs of CAP Cadets in action, and photostatic enlargements of newspaper articles about the Squadron, many from the Associated Newspapers.

Of special interest to the youngsters is the model rocketry display, including many model rockets which have been flown and a custom-made launching complex which can fire up to five rockets at one time.

The rocketry portion of the exhibit was contributed by Terry L. Markovich of Westland, a former Cadet Lieutenant Colonel in the CAP unit and currently a Cadet at the United States Air Force Academy.

Also featured were several of the drill trophies won by Cadet teams from the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron, including those awarded to the girls team which won the state championship in 1969, 1970 and 1971. Visitors were also able to look over the many textbooks and manuals which CAP Cadets use in their training.

AT GRAND OPENING — Among the first customers attending the special two-day grand opening of the Argyle Gift Galleries, 537 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville greeted by Mrs. Dorothy Richardson, co-owner, (left) were Mrs. Gloria Polzin and Mrs. Robert Hoeft, both of Belleville. Mrs. Richardson and her husband, Leslie, were former owners of the Richardson Restaurant, located across the street from their new business venture. The shop is presently featuring modern gifts, ceramics, antiques and garden statuary.

Prisoners can work while awaiting trial

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners will offer jail prisoners $2 a day, plus other incentives, to work while awaiting trial as another step toward ending the overcrowding at the jail.

About 40 volunteers will take over food service and janitorial duties now being performed by already-sentenced trustees who will no longer serve time at the jail. This will reduce the jail population by that amount.

The incentive plan, which will be tried on a 60-day trial basis, was approved by the county legislators Aug. 19. It is believed to be the only such pay plan in any Michigan jail. Under the law, pre-trial prisoners cannot be forced to work because, legally, they are presumed innocent.

In addition to the pay and other privileges, the presiding judges of Detroit Recorder's Court and Wayne County Circuit Court indicated that job performance would be considered if a defendant is later found guilty and faces sentencing.

The Board of Commissioners also called a halt to preparations to move 150 jail prisoners to the Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo), deciding instead to house them in jails in other counties.

The commissioners acted after Gus Harrison, director of the Michigan Department of Corrections, objected to the plan to renovate two vacant barracks at DeHoCo and move 150 prisoners into them. Harrison complained about a lack of facilities for pre-trial prisoners at DeHoCo. He recommended instead that prisoners be housed in other county jails.

Preliminary contacts indicated that other county jails might have room for a total of 105 inmates now — Macomb 10, Ingham 50 and St. Clair 45. Room for another 125 may be available in January, according to Harrison — 100 at Saginaw and 25 at Livingston County.

Early contacts indicated that it would cost about $5 per prisoner per day at the other jails, compared with a daily cost of $7 per prisoner at the Wayne County Jail.

The costs involved in boarding inmates in other counties and the cost of the incentive program at the Wayne County Jail will be met out of $470,000 which the Board of Commissioners had earmarked for renovating and staffing the compound at DeHoCo.

Sewer bid taken

A contract for the construction of phase one of Romulus' 1971 water and sanitary sewer program has been awarded to Two Way Construction Co., of 47595 Gratiot Ave., Mt. Clemens by Romulus City Council. The firm, one of 11 area contractors who submitted bids, was awarded the contract on a bid of $558,920, the lowest received by the city.

The city's current water program has an estimated construction cost of 251,000 and the sanitary sewer construction program for the current year has an estimated construction cost of $659,000.

Charles C. Hellman of Wade & Trim Associates, city engineers, reported that $690,800 is presently available for phase one of the 1971 water and sanitary sewer projects. He recommended acceptance of the Two Way Construction Co. bid.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER
BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Sorrowful expressions are heard with blended emotions of shame and regret every time one hears of an assassination, murder or a violent sudden death...Panicky pleas and promises all too often pantomime identical words and letters heard so many, many times before. But the vicious repetitions continue. Human life these days seems to be a cheap commodity.

This attitude is a sad indictment of our times. The indictment is even more disgraceful in connection with traffic and highway deaths. Why - WHY is it that so many people fail to realize a steering wheel attached to three tons of automobile steel is far more dangerous, far more LETHAL than any trigger action gun ever invented? Why - WHY is it that people seem so indifferent to the horrible fact that in just the last thirty years - we repeat - in only THIRTY years, Americans have splashed more blood on highways and killed more people by automobile, than those killed on less bloodied battlefields in ALL our wars since 1775?

For your own protection, and for the safety of others, remind yourself of this every time you get behind the wheel, especially on week ends or holidays.

Weight Watchers at State Fair

The Weight Watchers of Eastern and Central Michigan are "going big" for the 1971 Michigan State Fair, Aug. 27 through Sept. 12.

Franco Palumbo, executive chef of Weight Watchers International, Inc., is slated to appear at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 29, in the Community Arts Building Auditorium.

He will be doing a special demonstration on preparing some famous Weight Watchers culinary delights. Weight Watchers will also host a booth in the Community Arts Building display area where fairgoers can learn more about the organization.

Thursday, Sept. 9, has been designated Weight Watchers Day at the fair and any member showing a membership book at the gate will be admitted to the fair for half price until 6 p.m.

Again this year, Weight Watchers will hold their annual State Fair Recipe Contest. Final judging will be Sept. 9.

An added attraction this year will be the Teenage Queen competition. The young lady will be chosen from the outstanding Weight Watchers teen members, between 13 and 19.

The Weight Watchers program is one of the many different and exciting activities planned for this year's Michigan State Fair in the Community Arts Building.

Area students cast in play

The Indiana State University's Music Theater workshop were 57 teachers and performance of the Broadway musical "Once Upon a Mattress" last Thursday in the Tilson Music Hall.

Two area students were among the musical's participants which was opened to the public without charge. "Once Upon a Mattress" is a buoyant and tuneful show based loosely on the famed fairy tale "The Princess and the Pea." The music is by Mary Rogers, daughter of composer Richard Rogers, with lyrics by Marshall Barer.

Carol Burnett starred in the original production.

Participating in the musical from the Belleville High School are Paula Dolph and Shirley Oberdorf.

Also participating in the second annual Music Theater workshop were 57 teachers and high school students from Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Michigan.

THE LUV MACHINE A GAS DRYER

You're going to love The Luv Machine.

Because a Gas dryer has lower operating cost. It dries five loads of clothes for the cost of one with electricity.

Because a Gas dryer is Ultra-fast and ultra-gentle. It gently caresses permanent presses. In fact, permanent press things don't even need ironing. And with a Gas dryer, you save up to 10 minutes a load.

Because a Gas dryer is Versatile, all your clothes come out soft — smell good.

The Luv Machine is a many-splendored thing. See it at your appliance dealer's or Michigan Consolidated showrooms.

You'll love it. And remember, there's enough Gas for all your home appliances.

GRAND OPENING

Belle Villa + Townhouses

A new concept in relaxed country living for modern man...

Come out to the beautiful Belleville lakes area and let us show you a new style of life... a townhouse in the country. You'll have all the benefits of home ownership, without the lawn mowing, snow shoveling and other exterior maintenance headaches. At Belle Villa, large areas have been devoted to greenbelts, bike ways, play areas—plus a swimming pool for residents. You'll also have easy access to nearby lakes and parks and still be within easy reach of Detroit and Ann Arbor via the I-94 freeway. Country living, yes, but with all the modern conveniences, too! And at a price you can live with. Two and three-bedroom models available.

Condominium Living. Value... plus maintenance-free convenience!

- Condominium arrangement gives you all the advantages of home ownership with none of the headaches. A small monthly payment to the condominium association covers insurance and all exterior maintenance. Conventional financing with as little as 10% down.
- Brick fronts and aluminum siding cover galvanized steel framing. Name-brand, maintenance-free materials are used throughout. Each townhouse is fully insulated and sound-proofed, with double-glazed glass to insure cozy comfort.
- Play areas for children—and a swimming pool, too. Plus bike ways and walk ways located off the flow of traffic. There's even a greenbelt separating each townhouse from its two parking spaces.
- You'll have your own fenced patio... for outdoor cooking, gardening and entertaining with privacy.
- Inside, full carpeting, gas heat, central air conditioning and a complete range of appliances, including oven-range, self-defrosting refrigerator, garbage disposal—and a washer and dryer.
- Ideal location. Close to lakes and Lower Huron Metropolitan Park. Belleville schools. Two great universities nearby.

25th anniversary 4-H Fair is a record-setter

PREPARING HER ENTRY — Owners of livestock entries at the Wayne County 4-H Fair were quite busy preparing their entries for various exhibitions. Miss Sue Lawton of Plymouth is busy shearing her ewe. The 4-H Fair was held on Quirk Road north of the Belleville Road exit at I-94 Expressway.

Attendance 25% higher than 1970

The 1971 Wayne County 4-H Fair drew record crowds during its six-day (Aug. 17-22) run, Wayne County 4-H Fair Association officials reported Monday.

This year, the fair, which was held at the Wayne County 4-H Fairgrounds on Quirk Road, one mile north of the Belleville Road exit at I-94 Expressway, marked the silver anniversary of the popular annual event.

Attendance ran approximately 25 per cent higher than last year, a record year.

The 4-H Fair presented an unusually large number of products and livestock raised by Wayne County 4-H members.

Visitors came from nearly all sections of the state.

The parade held on Sunday, Aug. 15 highlighted this year's preview of the Wayne County 4-H Fair. Monday and Tuesday saw 4-H Club members and exhibitors of farm products busy preparing their animals and varied farm products displays.

Grandstands shows were presented nightly from Wednesday until the fair's closing.

Judging of various flower and product exhibits was held nightly with awards presented on Saturday.

Sunday's events were highlighted by a special sunrise service, open horse show and a tractor pulling contest.

A pictorial review of some of this year's 4-H Fair activity is presented.

"BOY THAT LOOKS GOOD" seems to be what two young visitors in last week's Wayne County 4-H Fair are saying as they inspect one of the many farm produce exhibits that attracted hundreds of farm enthusiasts. Reaching for some of the produce are (from left) Kenny McCray, 4, and his brother, Steven, 3, of 8005 Birch, Taylor. The 1971 Wayne County 4-H Fair is an annual exhibition of products and livestock of 4-H Club members.

A MAJOR ATTRACTION — The Midway with its assorted game displays and amusement rides has and is an essential part of fairs from time immemorial and the Wayne County 4-H Fair is no exception. The Midway at the 4-H Fair held on Quirk Road, north of Belleville (Aug. 17-18) was one of the main attractions. A view of a portion of the Midway that was quite active during the six-day 4-H Fair is displayed.

A PROUD OWNER — Danny Cash of Plymouth trims his goat in preparation for the goat's entry in livestock contests at the Wayne County 4-H Fair at the Wayne County 4-H Fairgrounds, located on Quirk Road, north of Belleville. Cash and an unidentified friend were hopeful of winning the Judges' approval.

200 pets are featured

4-H children's pet show most successful ever

The Children's Pet Show, conducted at the Wayne County 4-H Fair, which closed Sunday after a six-day run, was one of the most successful in the history of the 4-H Fair.

Merrill R. Bird of Belleville, who along with Mrs. Walter Cox, co-chaired the annual children's pet show, said, "This year's show was the most successful of all previous shows in participation and in the number of pet entries."

"The pet show has gotten to be an affair looked for annually. The 200 pets present and various pet exhibits were tremendous. The kids were just wonderful."

There were nine dog categories, seven cat and three household pet divisions plus one for all other animals on which pet show contestants placed entries.

Trophies or ribbons or cash prizes were presented to the winners of each class.

Winners were judged by Mrs. Bonnie Berg and Mrs. Burmeister. Both were assisted by Walter Cox.

Jeff Kelly with "Shety," a collie, won best groomed dog award. Karen MacDermid won dog with the longest ears class with her Bassett hound.

Kevin Sair won dog with longest tail award with his St. Bernard. Stacey Wood won dog with the shortest tail trophy with his Spaniel.

Noisest dog award went to Harry Jack, who entered a mixed breed dog in the contest.

Dog with most spots contest won by Jackie Lemanse. And Shirley Day won best dressed dog with her dachshund. Her pet dog was dressed in a ballerina costume with long hair.

Janet Gardner won largest dog classification with her 175-pound Great Dane. And Peggy Schmid was awarded smallest dog title with her Chihuahua. Shirley Day also won animal with most tricks prize with her Dachshund.

The winners in the cat contests were:

Best groomed cat, Sue Werts. Cat with most toes, Valerie Thornton. Cat with most kittens, Pamela Miller. Best dressed cat Charles Newman. His cat was dressed with a wig and glasses. Cat with the longest tail, Cindy Murray. Largest cat, Bob Newman.

Smallest household pet award was won by Chris Hammond who exhibited his pet ant colony in a glass container. And the most unusual household pet was won by Denise Walczak with her bat exhibited in a cage.

A pair of Sicilian donkeys exhibited and entered in the pet show by Ken and Debbie Haper of Belleville won the most unusual pet classification.

The donkey yearlings, were a matched pair and drew considerable amount of attention at the fair.

JUDGING HORSE ENTRIES — Members of various 4-H Clubs of Western Wayne County sit astride their mounts at the 4-H Fairgrounds during one of the many judging events. The 1971 Wayne County 4-H Fair concluded its six-day run on Sunday. Officials reported the 4-H fair this year had record crowds and excellent weather. The Wayne County 4-H Fair presented products and animals raised by 4-H members, held a Children's Pet Show and nightly grandstand shows and horse events along with the ever-popular midway.

Local government officials attend workshop

Better data on which to base financial, operational and municipal-service judgments for all of Michigan's local units of government was the ultimate aim of a three-day governmental accounting workshop held last week (Aug. 16-19) at Michigan State University.

More than 150 city, county and township clerks and treasurers -- from South Range in Houghton County to Erie in Monroe -- were at MSU's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education getting assistance in transferring local government financial records to the new state uniform accounting system.

Attending the accounting workshop from Van Buren Township are Mrs. Erma Jean Payne, township clerk; Mrs. Dorothy J. York, deputy township treasurer and Miss Marie M. Whelan of the water department.

Faculty from seven Michigan universities, colleges and community colleges and the state Department of Treasury assisted the elected local officials.

"Utilization of the state uniform accounting system throughout the state will make it possible to feed data regarding local units of government to computers," Dr. Mead said.

"When this has been done, the data can provide answers to a multiplicity of questions which will ease and improve local government, for instance: How many dollars of a tax levy are actually collected? What is the cost of maintaining a fire department in a township of 10,000? Is a police department feasible in a township of 500?"

It will also ease state auditing procedures, he allowed.

The records being transferred in the MSU workshop vary from highly sophisticated reporting to practically no records at all.

The workshop on the campus follows on the heels of a 50-hour governmental-accounting course which was held in high school, college and university classrooms around the state to be within commuting distance of participating governmental officials.

The workshop and the early training are sponsored by the Michigan Townships Association, the Michigan Municipal League and Michigan Department of Treasury with the cooperation of the MSU Institute for Community Development and Continuing Education Service.

Followup in the offices of participants will be a third and final stage of the current transfer-training effort, according to Dr. Mead, who with Prof. John Ruswinchel, MSU Department of Accounting, prepared both the text and the problem material being used in the tri-facted program.

Dividends announced

Lowell L. Peacock, president of Security Bank and Trust Company, Southgate, has announced that a quarterly cash dividend of 30 cents per share was declared, payable Oct. 1, 1971, to shareholders of record as of Sept. 15, 1971.

New farm record set

The export of farm products in the past fiscal year reached $7.8 billion which is a new record, according to Nick Smith, Chairman, Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Of this total commercial sales for dollars amounted to $6.8 billion which set a record for the second straight year. The President has set a goal of $10 billion. Japan continued as the leading single country market for U.S. agricultural products taking $1.2 billion.

expand or to remove some of the trade barriers with China and Eastern Europe and Russia is encouraging. Smith stated that we hope exports will stay high and grow as the productivity of American agriculture grows. /s yields go up and farmers produce more we must find a market for more or prices will slip.

The international market is working well in soybeans. In the past 15 years we have increased soybean production by 764 million bushels. Of this we are exporting over 500 million bushels as beans or meal--almost two-thirds of the increase in use. We now have 55 per cent of the entire world market for oilseeds, cake and meal, Smith added.

The market is working in grains. Wheat prices are the highest they have been in almost a decade and our commercial wheat exports are the largest in history. Our corn exports are running behind last year's totals due to corn blight but exports of barley, oats and grain sorghums are at a higher level.

Smith pointed out that ASCS farm programs eliminating large swings in prices which could force many efficient farmers out of business. The American people are more dependent than perhaps they realize on a relative handful of farmers being able to produce efficiently so that people can get their food and fiber at a very economical cost.

Our farm programs are market-oriented, meaning that more emphasis is placed on producing what consumers want:

Story hour Injuns

WHEN MISS Helena McCullough invites young friends in for a story hour at the Belleville Library, they should make every effort to attend. Otherwise they'll be hearing all about the fun from their companions who DID! Last Wednesday morn's Indian Pow Wow began with the presentation of beige percale headbands and bright red feathers. The tribe was then seated (Indian-fashion, of course) 'round a clump of white birch logs with a yellow tissue fire. The little mats the braves and maidens sat upon came from Roberts Brothers and were titled 'Roberts Magic Carpets' (borrowing just a wee bit from the EAST Indian.) In between hearing the story of "Little Burnt Face" and learning Indian customs, the 'council' stretched its legs by doing a number of tribal dances led by 'Big Chief Mac' who'd gone all out and purchased a special Indian motif blouse just for the occasion. Before the hour was up, the young warriors and maidens were given specially-made bookmarks and little decorated teepees with a toosieroll inserted—all made with loving care by the storyteller herself.

RAPT ATTENTION — Learning all about "Little Burnt Face" and Indian lore, this group of youngsters was at the Belleville Library last Wednesday as Miss Helen McCullough's guests for an hour.

A LITTLE MEMENTO — At the conclusion of last week's Indian story hour at the Belleville Library, Miss Helena McCullough presented each of her young listeners with a miniature wigwam. Made especially for the occasion, she used beige construction paper and decorated each with an appropriate Indian design. Each teepee held a Toosieroll so there was a bit of nourishment to go along with the little souvenir.

Safety tips for food use

"If in doubt, throw it out" is the summertime food-safety slogan suggested by Maryann Meldrum, Michigan State University food-marketing agent.

Be especially careful of all creamed dishes, puddings, pie fillings, casseroles, poultry, ham, fish, potato salad, stuffings, gravies and chopped-food sandwiches, such as egg, ham or tuna salad, Miss Meldrum warns, because poisonous bacteria grow more easily in these foods.

She advises refrigerating leftovers immediately after a meal or throwing them out.

"Food-poisoning bacteria don't signal their presence," she said, "and contaminated foods often neither smell bad nor have off-flavors."

Here are some additional suggestions from Miss Meldrum for summertime food handling:

- Wash your hands thoroughly and often when preparing food, and keep insects and animals away from it.

- Keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold. Several thicknesses of newspaper and insulated containers help hold heat or cold. Use them when transporting food to a picnic area.

- Heat or chill food containers and insulated carriers as well as food, then put the hot or cold food into the carriers.

- Pack bags of ice cubes or cans of pre-frozen special liquid around the food. (You can freeze milk cartons filled with water and put them in the traveling cooler when you're ready to go.)

- Save most of the food preparation until the very last minute. Carry sandwich or salad ingredients in refrigerated containers to the picnic areas and combine after you arrive.

Barbara Neumann is August bride

Double ring vows were exchanged August 14 between Barbara Neumann of Ypsilanti and Daniel Makarewich of Willis. The Lincoln Community United Methodist Church was reserved for the six thirty ceremony at which the Rev. Bernard Hearl Presided.

Arrangements of blue and white daisies and carnations graced the altar as the bride approached on the arm of her father, Mrs. Beatrice Burrell was at the organ to play traditional wedding music.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neumann of 7266 Willis Road, Ypsilanti, and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Makarewich of 10744 Bunton Road, Willis, are parents of the young couple.

CARRYING A CRESCENT bouquet of Marguerete daisies and baby's breath accented with light blue ribbon, the bride appeared in a white embroidered organza gown fashioned with a high neckline, sheer yoke, and bishop sleeves with teacup flared cuffs. Her bridal veil, formed in three tiers, drifted to mid-back length from a cluster of white flowers.

As matron of honor, Mrs. William Kelly of Belleville donned a toe-touching frock designed with a white organza bodice and blue chiffon gathered skirt featuring a lifted waistline. Blue venise lace outlined the cuffs of the long sleeves, the neckline and waistline and formed vertical lines on the bodice.

A headpiece of daisies and bachelor buttons formed her headgear with a garden parasol enhanced with clusters of Marguerete daisies, blue bachelor buttons, babies breath, and star flowers completing her ensemble.

Identical outfits were worn by the trio of bridesmaids, Sharon Straub of Milan; and Gloria Wright of Ypsilanti and Diane Muck of Flat Rock, both cousins of the bride.

BEST MAN was Kenneth Moore of Ypsilanti. Ushers were William Kelly of Belleville; David De Laroque of Ypsilanti; and David Dane, Roy Dane and John Dane, all of Willis.

The Stoney Creek Methodist Church was the setting for the reception which followed. The 250 guests were received by Mrs. Neumann in a pink costume and Mrs. Makarewich in blue.

Following a Canadian honeymoon of one week's duration, the newlyweds took up residence at Eastern Michigan University's married housing project.

Barbara graduated from E.M.U. where she was affiliated with Phi Gamma Nu, Women's Professional Business Sorority. She is currently employed in the undergraduate Advising Office at the University.

Tips from yesterdays cooks

It's getting to the time of year when homemakers begin to think about canning and preserving a few of those beautiful fruits and vegetables that are appearing at roadside stands and in the markets.

Here are a few hints for modern homemakers culled from contributions from the Women's pages of the Chicago Daily News of 40 years ago.

Put several marbles in the kettle when making chili sauce, preserves, apple butter or anything that calls for continued stirring. The marbles roll constantly across the bottom of the kettle, which prevents the contents from scorching or sticking.

When canning or preserving peaches try adding some peach stones to the syrup and let boil five minutes or longer. Remove before putting in the peaches. You will find the flavor and color greatly improved.

A raw potato will remove the scorched taste from jelly or jam that has been burned. First remove jelly to a clean kettle, cut up the potato in quarters and continue cooking jelly as before.

When preparing onions pour boiling water over them let them stand three minutes,

It is now estimated there are more than 380 million radios being used throughout the world with most of them in the U.S.

MRS. ROBERT P. LEVESQUE

Maine honeymoon follows wedding

Delphine Rita Sechowski, a former teacher at St. Anthony's Catholic School, became the bride of Robert Paul Levesque Saturday, August 21, at St. Anthony's Church. A friend of the couple, Rev. Jack Fabian, performed the double ring rite at one o'clock in the afternoon.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Sechowski of South Bend, Indiana, Delphine resided on Liberty Street prior to moving to Warren. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Levesque of Lewiston, Maine.

For her wedding day, the bride selected an A-line creation designed with a sheared bodice with high neckline, long sleeves and empire waistline accented with pale pink satin bows.

A tiara of pink daisy appliques, made by a dear friend, secured her three-tiered illusion veil which cascaded to form a chapel sweep. Her colonial bouquet was comprised of pink tea roses and white daisies.

MAID OF HONOR was Patricia Katanski of Dearborn. The bride's sisters, Mrs. Henry Meier and Mrs. Joseph Lacay, were bridesmaids, and Jennifer Smith was flowergirl.

The bridegroom asked William Sechowski to serve as best man and Robert Harper and Carter Bondeson to be ushers.

Deanna's 12 now

INVITATIONS TO Deanna Shoup's birthday party included the note, 'Bring sleeping bag and pillow and plan to spend the night.'

And that's just what the nine former classmates did last Thursday as they arrived at the Leslie Shoup's Willis Road home for dinner and the all-night slumber party. Janice French, Diane Arndt, Jennie Koss, Carol Smith, Robin Wilson, Denise Patterson, and Cheryl Kormos were on hand to compare notes on their summer activities and to commiserate over their being separated this fall (part of the group will be attending North Junior High rather than South, as planned, due to re-zoning by the school board.)

Also at the party were Deanna's sister, Susan; their cousin, Bethann Hatcher; and Jennie Koss' cousin, Cindy Moors.

Judy's home from France

JUDY STONE, daughter of Judge and Mrs. James B. Stone of Louisa Drive, was expected to arrive home yesterday from France where she's spent the past nine weeks at the University of Grenoble. The family will have to listen fast, though, cause there'll be only a few days 'till Judy's off again — this time for her junior year at Western Michigan.

One of 15 students from WMU to study at Grenoble this summer, Judy has racked up four credits toward her major. One of the requirements while abroad was to conduct a guided tour of a local museum — and every bit of it in the French language. Having had four years of French at Rosary High in Detroit and two at WMU, we feel confident Judy did her country proud as she played 'guide for the day.'

And it wasn't all work and no play either cause there were those week-ends which the girls filled with visits to the French Riviera and Switzerland — the final days being spent in Paris prior to returning to home soil.

Luncheon honors ex-resident

FRAN SULIMAN invited friends in last Thursday for a luncheon honoring former Belleville, Gwen Myers, who was in town between visiting relatives in Indiana and returning to Bonn, Germany.

Hearing about Gwen's life in Europe were Maxine Henderson of Ypsilanti; Helen Miller, Imogene Pence, Madeleine Muse, Bea Raymond, and Arlene Smith. Gwen's husband, Kenn, who's with Ford Motor Company, was transferred to New Jersey and then to Brussels when they left Belleville and for the past three years, the family has been in Germany. Son, Jay, was along for the local visit while son, Jeff, has been in Indiana for his second year at the University.

Moose notes

Belleville Lodge No. 934 of the Loyal Order of Moose, held an enrollment Saturday (Aug. 14) at 8 p.m. at the Moose Home.

The ritual work was exemplified by the Dearborn Heights Ritual Team. There were fourteen new members enrolled into our defending circle. They are: Edgar Morin, Herbert Francis, John Swoffer, William Hoy, Norman Miller, James Webb, Louis Roy, Howard Helton, Charles Carter, John Raffel, John Pickett, Blanford Keith, Michael Dansak and Alvin McGriff.

A delicious chicken dinner was served by the Women of the Moose. Dancing was enjoyed after the enrollment. Last Sunday the Lodge held its annual picnic at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park from 12 noon to 6 p.m. There were free refreshments plus games and prizes for both young and old.

Tonight (Wednesday) there will be a membership meeting at 8:30 p.m. at the Moose Home.

Watch this paper for details on the "luau" at the Moose Home. Tickets available from Bar Steward.

District No. 1 and No. 11 Fellowship picnic was held at "Steger's Acres" on Sunday Aug. 15, and everyone present had a very good time.

Next enrollment will be on Friday, Sept. 17, at the Moose Home. Full details in this paper at a later date.

Mahalak reports on property tax relief

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D) Romulus—whose 38th District embraces the cities of Romulus and Belleville and the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren as well as nine townships in Monroe County—Monday commented on the approval of the Michigan House of Representatives of a resolution covering property tax relief and the graduated income tax in the following report:

One of the most significant actions taken by the House was approval of House Joint Resolution "GG", which covers property tax relief and the graduated income tax.

The proposal still must be approved by the Senate before it can be placed before Michigan voters. Voter approval is necessary because the changes involve amendments to the state constitution.

The main features of the proposal, as approved by the House are:

—The elimination of property taxes as a source of financing school operation.
—A limit of 26 mills on total overall property taxes (the limit is now 50 mills).

—Replacement of the current flat-rate income tax with a graduated tax.
As it is now, the package would be placed on the ballot as one proposition, hopefully in the special election this November. One proposition is necessary because the school property tax relief and the graduated income tax are closely related.

In place of the property taxes, local school operations would be financed by the state through its income tax and other state revenues. School districts still would be able to levy six mills for supplementary "enrichment" programs, but only with the approval of local voters.

The 26-mill limitation on property taxes would be broken down in this way: 7.25 mills for counties, 1.5 mills for townships, one mill for community college, one mill for vocational education, one mill for special education, one mill for compensatory education, one-half mill for intermediate school districts, six voted mills for enrichment programs, an additional 1.5 mills for community colleges and an additional total of 5.25 voted mills for counties and townships.

Voted mills mean they must be approved by voters before they can be levied.

The Constitution presently allows only a flat-rate state income tax. Under this system wage earners pay at the same rate on the money they make. The graduated tax would be based on the amount of the earnings, or the ability to pay. The federal income tax is a graduated tax.

The overall package is seen as a fairer method of taxation and one which would be adequate to meet the needs of the state. It would lift the burden from the homeowner and spread it equally among all wage earners.

The property tax relief and graduated income tax proposals are interrelated and for this reason efforts are being made to place them on the ballot as one question.

If they were presented as separate propositions, the state could be left in a strange situation. If the property tax reduction was approved and the graduated income tax defeated, it would result in a disaster for public services unless other tax sources were found. If, on the other hand, the graduated income tax passed and the property tax question was defeated, the opportunity for removing the school property tax burden could be lost indefinitely.

It takes a two-thirds vote of both houses to place a proposed constitutional amendment on the ballot. The House barely got the necessary two-thirds vote and then only after three tries.

There is opposition to the plan in the Senate and its fate there is at the present time uncertain. Possibly the plan could be considerably modified if and when it comes out of the Senate.

Help for project dwellers sought by commissioners

Seventeen Wayne County Commissioners today petitioned a State Senate Committee to release a bill designed to improve assistance for residents forced to move by public projects.

The proposed legislation, Senate Bill 422, has been in the Senate Committee on State Affairs since last April. The petition urges that the bill be released by the committee "so that the issue can be openly debated and resolved with haste."

County Commissioner Rose Mary C. Robinson, Detroit Democrat who circulated the petition, said she believed virtually all 26 members of the Board of Commissioners would have signed if they had been available at the time. The petition was addressed to Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-

Kalamazoo, State Affairs Committee Chairman.

"This legislation is vitally important to the people of my district and many others because thousands of families are displaced by freeway construction and urban renewal," said Mrs. Robinson who represents District 17 on Detroit's lower west side.

The bill would require all condemning authorities to provide "adequate" relocation assistance, to pay all "reasonable" relocation costs including the cost of locating replacement housing, and to offer without negotiation "the full fair market value" for residential dwellings. The amount paid would also have to be at least equal to the cost of comparable replacement housing in a desirable location.

A number of other provisions to protect property owners and residents against loss as a result of condemnation are also contained in the bill.

In addition to Mrs. Robinson, the commissioners who signed the petition are: Charmie Currie, District 6; William L. Dunbar, Dist. 10;

Liquor hearings scheduled

Teen-age drinking, which will be legal after Jan. 1, is expected to be one of the principal topics discussed at the semi-annual public hearing conducted by the Michigan Commerce Department's Liquor Control Commission on Aug. 30.

State law provides the Commission must conduct two public hearings annually to hear complaints and receive the views of the public regarding administration of the state liquor laws.

Members of the five-man Commission will conduct the hearing and a discussion of liquor laws and their administration will be followed by a question and answer period.

The Aug. 30 hearing will be held beginning at 10 a.m. in the Commission's offices at 506 S. Hosmer St. in Lansing.

Huey A. Ferguson, Dist. 5; Robert E. FitzPatrick, Dist. 13; Thomas P. O'Rourke, Dist. 14; Michael J. Novak, Dist. 1; Catherine Shavers, Dist. 15 and Paul Silver, Dist. 11; all of Detroit. Also

Joseph Cardinal of Dearborn, Dist. 21; James DeSana, Wyandotte, Dist. 23; John Lesinski, Dearborn, Dist. 20; Richard E. Manning, Redford, Dist. 19; John J. McCann, Livonia, Dist. 26; William G. Suzore, Lincoln Park; Dist. 22; and Albert J. Zak, Hamtramck, Dist. 8.

The bill was introduced by four Democratic senators from Wayne County—Jack Faxon and Coleman A. Young, both of Detroit; Basil W. Brown, of Highland Park; and David A. Plawewski, of Dearborn Heights.

Question arises repeatedly about snoring and cures therefor. Regret to report I have no list at hand of flatout never-fail snoring cures. It has been claimed, however, any wife can stop her husband from snoring simply by sewing an empty thread spool to the back of his pajama top. Might try that.

Arithmomania is what it's called, that compulsion to count. It's pretty common. Not all arithmomania counts everything. They specialize. One counts stair steps, a second counts window panes, a third counts cracks in the sidewalk. Once knew a man who when home invariably paused to count the times his clock struck. Knew another who daily kept track of the number of parked cars in a lot he could see from his sixth-floor office window. Arithmomania, both. Odd quirk.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have much work cut out for you, but so long as you delve right into it, you can complete it in jig time. Not just the right day to take that trip you want to make; wait until next week.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those delightful young people with a strong will and few can dissuade this strong youngster from whatever the mind is tenaciously determined to do. Supervise both play and small tasks while young to teach how to do them well, and give the right ethical and religious background to focus your child's energies in proper directions. Anything connected with investigating is fine, whether in police work, the laboratory, or books for research.

Mass pattern changes made

John Cardinal Dearden, acting on a recommendation of Archdiocese of Detroit vicars, has extended the new Sunday Mass pattern to holy days.

Just as the Sunday Mass period now begins at 4 p.m. Saturday, an observance of a holy day, such as Christmas, may begin with any Mass after 4 p.m. the day before.

A single Mass may sometimes cover two obligations. When a holy day occurs on Saturday, attendance at Mass after 4 p.m. Saturday fulfills both the holy day and the Sunday obligation. Those who attend Sunday Mass after 4 p.m. on Sunday next Oct. 31 will also be observing the Nov. 1 Feast of All Saints.

Besides Christmas and All Saints, United States holy days of obligation are the Solemnity of Mary (formerly the Feast of the Circumcision) on Jan. 1, the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin on Aug. 15, the Immaculate Conception on Dec. 8 and the Ascension, the date of which depends on the date of Easter.

"Pope Paul VI had given American bishops the right to make the change," said the Rev. Father Patrick R. Cooney, director of the Archdiocesan Department of Worship. "but Cardinal Dearden did not act until the vicars had consulted with the priests and people."

"The vicars reported that many difficulties would be overcome if Catholics had the opportunity to select either of two days to observe holy days, particularly when the feasts fall on working days. A reverent observance will in many instances replace worship disturbed by great numbers trying to crowd into Mass on a holy day evening after work."

Loyal Order of Moose appoints new director

John D. "Don" Buchanan has been appointed state director of Michigan for the Loyal Order of Moose, it was announced Monday by Herbert W. Heilman, director of the Membership Enrollment Department.

Buchanan succeeds Harold A. Kretsinger of Kalamazoo, who retired as of Aug. 15, after serving as state director since 1944.

The new state director, who is making his home temporarily in Kalamazoo, became affiliated with the Moose in December, 1955 when he joined Bellwood, Ill. Lodge No. 777. He worked his way through the chairs of this lodge and served as governor for two terms.

He was a member of Fort Dearborn Legion No. 33, the second degree of the Order, and served as argus and activities chairman. He served as a special representative of the Enrollment Department and organized lodges in Addison and Bensenville.

In addition, from December 1969 until he resigned to accept this post, he served as secretary of Portage Park, Ill. Lodge No. 220, which has a membership of almost 5,000 and spearheaded the construction of new lodge quarters at a cost of $270,000.

A member of the 250 Division of the 25 Club and of the Conservation Golden Key Club, Buchanan received the Fellowship Degree in 1964 and the Pilgrim Degree of Merit, the Order's highest degree, in 1971 for his outstanding service to the Moose Fraternity.

He has been active in community service work in his home community of Hillside, Ill., serving as president of the PTA, a member of Kiwanis, American Legion and VFW, as a past trustee and former mayor of the Village of Hillside, and in 1970 was named "Citizen of the Year" by Proviso Township.

Buchanan, and his wife, Vera, have two sons, Timothy and James.

Grain program wins acceptance

This year, 76,500 Michigan farmers participated in the Feed Grain and Wheat Programs.

These programs are administered by the United States Department of Agriculture for the purpose of stabilizing production and maintaining prices that will provide a fair rate to the producer.

Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State ASC Committee, states that as of this date, the compliance visits throughout the state are nearly complete and there are very few discrepancies reported.

Smith indicates that this is proof of acceptance by the farmers in Michigan and shows their willingness to cooperate with the U.S. Department of Agriculture in helping to maintain a stable production of feed grain and wheat crops and, at the same time, maintain many acres in conserving use which provides good game habitat and other uses such as recreation.

In 1971, over one-half million acres were taken out of production and maintained in conserving use.
